

Office of the Chief Information Officer (V)

The function of the Office of the Chief Information Officer (V) is to assure innovative, cost-effective Information Technology (IT) software systems, tools, technologies, and solutions supporting research, engineering, and administrative information requirements to accomplish the mission of the Glenn Research Center and NASA.

